Embark on a European Journey with EUGLOH

Exchange with European Partners for Students, Scientific Researchers, Professors

Thanks to its membership in the European University Alliance for Global Health (EUGLOH), the University of Hamburg's students and staff can collaborate with and travel to eight other European universities as part of fully funded opportunities.

Want to find out how you can go to Paris, Tromsø, Alcala, Novi Sad, Szeged, Lund or Porto?

Join the EUGLOH team for an informational event

On: 23 January at 12:00, in: Geomatikum, Room 1528

highlighting the wide variety of ways that students, early-career/doctoral researchers and professors from the MIN Faculty can get involved.

From in-person courses and online workshops to funding opportunities and researcher matchmaking, there are numerous ways to get started – and we can help you find the right one! The fifteen-minute presentation will be held in English and followed by a Q&A session.

Speakers:

Jessica Mann, Lisa Anna Laure Crinon (Team European University Alliance for Global Health (EUGLOH)

Organizing Team:

Anne-Catherin Zappe (Referentin für Internationalisierung und Nachwuchsförderung, MIN)

Sonja Kanemaki (ERASMUS-Koordinatorin, FB Geowissenschaften)

Zur Anmeldung